

LATIN VIEWS 2012

A Biennial Exhibition
Una Exposición Bienal

INTERNATIONAL CALL TO ARTISTS

The Latin Network for the Visual Arts (LNVA) invites Latin artists to submit artwork to be considered for LATIN VIEWS 2012: A Biennial Exhibition at the University of Connecticut, Alexey von Schlippe Gallery of Art. This 6th biennial juried exhibition celebrates the breadth and diversity of Latin fine art by contemporary artists whose roots lie in countries where the Romance languages are spoken, (Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, El Salvador, France, French Polynesia, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Italy, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Portugal, Puerto Rico, Romania, Spain, Uruguay, United States of America and Venezuela.)

The LNVA is a non-profit 501(c)(3) visual arts organization focused exclusively on Latin fine art. The exhibition will be held from September 21st to October 26nd, 2012, (with an Opening Reception on Friday, Sept. 21st) and includes cultural and educational programming. A full color, bilingual (English & Spanish) catalog is produced featuring images from the selected works of participating artists.

The application for Latin Views 2012: A Biennial Exhibition can be downloaded from the LNVA website. Applications must be submitted by March 30, 2012 to be considered.

For further information about the LNVA, log onto: www.LNVA.us